INTERNATIONAL ECONOMICS ROMANCE LANGUAGES (IERL)

Iberian and Latin American Studies

Student __________________________________________ Date ________________
Graduation date ___________________ College ____________________________
First Major ______________  Second Major ____________  Minor _____________
Foreign study __________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________

1. Math requirement
Calculus I
Calculus II

2. Required courses in Economics
ECON 10010/20010 _______    ECON 10020/20020 _______
ECON 30010 _______    ECON 30020 _______
ECON 30330 _______    ECON 30331 _______
Two of the following:
ECON 40700 _______    ECON 40710 _______
ECON 40720 _______    ECON 40800 _______

3. Required 1.0-credit course, “Exploring International Economics” (spring)
LLRO 33000 ___________

4. Required Courses in Romance languages
In general, courses at the 20020 and above level can count towards the requirements

1. ROSP 20202 or above __________
2. ROSP 30310 Introduction to Hispanic Literature and Cultures - previously titled “Textual Analysis” __________
3. Two of the following: ROSP 30710 ___________ ROSP 30720 ___________
4. ROSP 30810 ___________ ROSP 30820 ___________ ROSP 3X715 ___________
   ROSP 3X725 ___________ ROSP 3X815 ___________ ROSP 3X825 ___________
   Other ___________
5. Two 40000-level courses in Spanish culture, literature or related fields (possibly from study abroad in advanced-level program)\(^1\)
   ROSP 4XXXX ___________ ROSP 4XXXXX ___________

5. Required 3.0 credits course, “Senior Research Project”
LLRO 48100 ___________

\(^1\) ROSP 53000 (Senior Seminar) may replace one 40000-level course
Senior Research Project LLRO 48100

As part of the International Economics major, students are required to complete a project in their Senior year which combines the Economics and Language and Literatures portions of the curriculum. There are three paths that students can follow to complete this requirement.

Choose one of three options:

1. Senior Research Project. The Senior Research Project is a one-semester course resulting in the completion of a research paper, which combines the language, and cultural aspects of your study with Economics. You can explore a variety of topics, some more quantitative than others. The guidelines are set out below.

2. Senior Thesis. The senior thesis, as defined by the College of Arts & Letters, will replace the joint-capstone thesis/project.

3. In exceptional circumstances, Senior Seminar (53000) in your language specific program or an Economics Seminar. (With approval of DUSs in Romance Languages and Economics.) If you select option 3, counting Senior Seminar for the Senior Research Project, then you can't use Senior Seminar to replace one of the 40000-level courses.

Spanish

Guidelines for Senior Research Project

1. The final paper should be 20-25 pages in length.
2. The paper may be written in English.
3. 30% or 3-5 sources should be in the target language.
4. By the end of fall semester, you should have a topic and advisor so you can begin work right away in the Spring. (Department DUSs can assist with finding advisors.)
5. Rough outline of due dates in the Spring

Feb. 15 Preliminary literature review

March 15 Draft of analytical portion of paper. This might include statistical analysis, synthesis of other works, analysis of texts.

April 15 Final paper done and ready for review by advisor or other readers

(Revised 05.13.15)