

SPANISH MAJOR

The Spanish major requires 10 courses that total at least 30 credits beginning at 20202 or above, consisting of:

- 1.) 5 core courses: ROSP 30310 (Introduction to Hispanic Literature and Cultures), 3 courses in advanced literature and culture (numbered 30710 and above), and ROSP 53000 (Senior Seminar);
- 2.) 5 electives: 2 courses at or above the 20202 level, 1 course at or above the 30000 level, and 2 courses at the 40000 level.

Literature and culture classes at the 40000 level may count toward the 3 core courses in advanced literature and culture or as electives but may not double count. Courses at the 30000 level but below 30710 or courses at the 30000 level whose focus is not literature and culture may count only as electives.

Equivalent literature and culture courses from international study programs or other universities may be substituted with departmental approval. A minimum of fifty percent of the credits toward the major must be taken in residence at Notre Dame. AP or SAT credit may not be applied toward the major.

Students are allowed to take one related course in English outside of the department of Romance Languages and Literatures (for example, Colonial Latin American History, taken in the History Department) or one course in Spanish outside of the discipline of literature and culture (for example, an anthropology course taken in Spanish in a study abroad program), with the approval of the Director of Undergraduate Studies (DUS) and the Associate Director of Undergraduate Studies in Spanish, that can count as an advanced elective toward the major.
