UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME | ROMANCE LANGUAGES AND LITERATURES

International Economics Romance Languages (IERL) – French

The IERL major with a concentration in French and Francophone Studies requires a minimum of 8 courses in Economics and 5 in French and Francophone Studies beginning at 20600 or above. Students are also required to take a one-credit course, "Exploring International Economics," and must complete a senior research project or equivalent designed to integrate their studies of economics and language and culture.

Equivalent literature and culture courses from international study programs or other universities may be substituted with departmental approval. A minimum of fifty percent of the requirements for the French concentration must be taken in residence at Notre Dame. AP or SAT credit may not be applied toward the major.

1. Math requirement:

Calculus I Calculus II

2. Required courses in Economics:

a. ECON 10010/20010 _____ ECON 10020/20020 _____

ECON 30010 _____ ECON 30020 _____

ECON 30340 _____ ECON 30331 _____

b. Two Electives with the IEEL Course Attribute

3. Required 1.0-credit course, "Exploring International Economics" (spring):

LLRO 33000 _____

4. Required Courses in Romance languages - French and Francophone Studies:

a. ROFR 30320 _____

b. Two of the following:

ROFR 206xx _____ ROFR 30310 _____

ROFR 30710 _____ ROFR 30720 _____ ROFR 306xx _____

c. Two 400-level courses in French culture, literature, or related fields

ROFR 4XXXX _____ ROFR 4XXXX _____

5. Required 3.0 credits course, Senior Research Project:

ECON 48100 _____ (or equivalent)